

LeAnne Larsen

Wife, mom, grandma and fellow bond servant to the Lord. I have spent much of the last 35 years studying, teaching and sharing the Word of God. God has opened some amazing doors to me and I have enjoyed the journey so far. I have my bachelor's degree in education and home economics and graduate work with a local seminary. My husband and I have two great sons, one daughter in law and a very special granddaughter. We are getting close to retirement and look forward to more travel, golf, and hobbies together. We attend the Langley Christian and Missionary Alliance church where I am currently on staff. I have a particular interest in the glory of God and how that is communicated to our world today. I like to call my teaching style "Practical Christianity".
